STATEMENT OF FACTS

31. Plaintiffs are individuals who were arrested on 16th Street between Union Square East and Irving Place on August 31, 2004.

32. Plaintiffs were arrested during one of the many mass-arrests conducted by the NYPD during the period of the RNC, arrests made by the NYPD without probable cause or individualized suspicion of criminal activity.

33. On the late afternoon of August 31, 2004 a group of people left the South side of Union Square Park and began walking North along Union Square East. Some of these people were on the sidewalk, and some were in the street. A number of musicians playing their instruments were walking at the front of the group.

34. When the group arrived at the intersection with East 16th Street police officers had formed a line across Union Square East, preventing any further movement to the North. Police officers directed the group to turn right onto East 16th Street, and the group did so.

35. On information and belief, when the group reached Irving Place, at the other end of the block, another line of police officers prevented them from continuing forward and leaving the block in that direction.

36. On information and belief, the intersection with Union Square East was thereafter also sealed by police officers, and many people who attempted to leave the block at the location where the group had entered it were unable to do so. On information and belief, the vast majority of those who were on the block were not permitted to leave the block at all.

37. Police officers acted aggressively and violently towards the musicians and others present on the block.

38. The people on the block were told to move to the sidewalks and told to sit down.

39. After the people on the block were seated for a long period of time, the police officers handcuffed them.

40. Police officers thereafter placed them into vehicles for transport to Pier 57.

41. At no time were the individuals on 16th Street given an order to disperse or advised that they were in violation of any law or ordinance of the State or City of New York.

42. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS is a professional photojournalist. On August 31, 2004 she went from Union Square Park to East 16th Street in order to observe what was occurring there and to photograph it. She was wearing a press pass around her neck.

43. While photographing the events occurring on the block she, like the other people present on the block, was directed by a police officer to get on the ground.

44. After a long period of time BETTY BASTIDAS was handcuffed. On information and belief the police officer who handcuffed her was defendant KEVIN SAM.

45. BETTY BASTIDAS was thereafter transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

45. On the evening of August 31, 2004 plaintiff GREGG ROSS left his job at the library of New School University and went to Union Square Park.

46. While at Union Square Park he saw the group proceed North on Union Square East. He wanted to observe what was occurring and walked along with the group on the sidewalk, and onto 16th Street.

47. GREGG ROSS saw the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block, and heard one of the police officers state, in sum and substance, "you don't fuck with the NYPD - we'll fuck with you."

48. Like so many others on 16th Street, GREGG ROSS was also arrested and transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

49. On August 31, 2004 plaintiff LAUREN CASPAR was arrested on East 16th Street while she was on her way to her Aunt's house.

50. LAUREN CASPAR attempted to exit East 16th Street at both Irving Place and Union Square East, but the police officers present would not let her leave from either end of the block.

51. LAUREN CASPAR saw the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block

52. LAUREN CASPAR was told to sit down by the police officers present on East

35. Plaintiff LAURIE SCHOEMAN was in Union Square Park on the afternoon of August 31, 2004 to peacefully and lawfully exercise her rights to free speech and assembly and to enjoy her day. When she saw the group proceeding North on Union Square East she went into the Zen Palate restaurant on the corner of Union Square East and East 16th Street and ordered a cup of tea to go. She exited Zen Palate with her tea and observed the activity on East 16th Street.¶

36. Like so many others on 16th Street, she was also arrested and transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.¶

37. On information and belief the police officer who handcuffed LAURIE SCHOEMAN was defendant PEREZ. In response to LAURIE SCHOEMAN's queries as to why she was being arrested, Defendant PEREZ told her, in sum and substance, that he wished that he knew, and that he was only doing what he was told.

16th Street.

53. After sitting for a long period of time, LAUREN CASPAR was handcuffed by her arresting officer, on information and belief defendant BAITY.

54. LAUREN CASPAR was brought to Pier 57.

55. While LAUREN CASPAR was detained at Pier 57, some of the detainees began to chant that they needed medical attention. Police officers present at Pier 57 began dancing to these chants.

56. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN was also wrongfully arrested on East 16th Street without probable cause or individualized suspicion that he had committed any crime.

57. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN also witnessed the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block. Like so many others on 16th Street, JEREL WALDEN was also handcuffed and transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

58. The arrest decision was made by Defendants ESSIG and DIECKMANN, without justification or probable cause, and without individualized knowledge that any of the arrestees had engaged in any illegal conduct. This decision to engage in the mass arrests on 16th Street was communicated to lower-ranking NYPD officers, who effected those orders.

Deleted:

59. Defendants GALATI, JOHNSON, CORTRIGHT, and KEEGAN were among the NYPD Commanding Officers who also exercised command responsibility at East 16th Street, and participated both directly and in their capacity as supervisors in making the wrongful mass arrests.

60. On information and belief, all those arrested on East 16th Street, and the vast majority of the almost two thousand people arrested during the course of the period of the RNC, were confined for some period of time at Pier 57.

61. Pier 57 is a former bus depot located on the Hudson River, and was reconfigured for use as a detention facility during the period of the RNC by defendant CITY OF NEW YORK.

62. Pier 57 is owned by and/or under the control of defendant HRPT. Deleted: by

63. Prior to the RNC the CITY OF NEW YORK contracted with HRPT for the use of Pier 57 as a detention facility.

64. The conditions at Pier 57 were atrocious. The detainees were kept in chain-link cages topped with barbed wire that lacked adequate seating. The floor of Pier 57 was caked with a dark grimy substance that spread to the clothing and bodies of those detained therein. There were numerous signs warning of hazardous materials that were posted at multiple locations throughout the pier. On information and belief, the detainees were exposed during their time at Pier 57 to toxic, irritating and/or hazardous chemicals which the City and HRPT knew, or should have known, were present there. During these periods of confinement the detainees were unlawfully denied adequate food, water, sanitation, medical attention and/or access to counsel.

65. Plaintiffs were processed at Pier 57, and their arresting officers were instructed by employees of THE CITY OF NEW YORK under the supervision of HAMMERMAN, DOEPFNER, SWEET, ALBANO MARIN-JORDAN, and NYPD LEGAL BUREAU SUPERVISOR(S) AT PIER 57 to create false accounts of plaintiffs' arrests. On information and belief, these Legal Bureau personnel also participated in the making of unconstitutional and illegal arrests at numerous mass arrest locations during the RNC.

66. Defendant HAMMERMAN was appointed by Defendant Kelly as Deputy Commissioner of Legal Matters without having knowledge at all of the rights of demonstrators or of individuals' rights under the First Amendment more generally, and no knowledge of the elements of the charges that are most commonly lodged against arrestees in demonstration-related circumstances. In addition to delegating his authority to Defendant DOEPFNER during the RNC period, which resulted in the construction of the NYPD Legal Bureau's unconstitutional and illegal policies, practices, customs, and usages during the RNC period, Defendant HAMMERMAN also personally set a tone of lawlessness and contempt for individual rights within the NYPD during the RNC, including by personally attempting to frame an individual named Dennis Kyne for crimes which he did not commit.

Deleted: ¶

67. The detainees at Pier 57, including plaintiffs, were further subjected to unreasonable delay in being processed and moved through the system. The City insisted on fingerprinting all RNC detainees in contravention of New York State Law, the vast number of whom were arrested and charged based only on the alleged commission of violations that did not rise to the level of crimes under New York State law, and who therefore under New York State law did not have to be fingerprinted to be processed and released with a date to return for court. Despite the City's insistence on fingerprinting all RNC arrestees, the detention facility at Pier 57 not equipped with any fingerprinting machines. On information and belief, once the City eventually fingerprinted these RNC arrestees their fingerprints and other personal information were sent to State and Federal authorities and not destroyed, thus violating the privacy rights and interests of the arrestees and creating the potential for unlawful surveillance activity by law enforcement authorities, for the unlawful chilling of their exercise of free speech and association, and for disruptions to their lives. Additionally, unnecessary and dilatory additional processing steps were taken at Pier 57 that delayed the detainees' movement through the system, including overly exacting property itemization procedures and the screening of each arrestee's paperwork by the NYPD's Legal Division to determine and finalize what suggested charges should be forwarded to the District Attorney's office for each arrestee, and to create the arrest narratives on the arresting officers' paperwork. Further unreasonable and unnecessary delays were also suffered by RNC detainees upon their subsequent transfer to and detention at the Central Booking Facility at 100 Centre Street. All arrestees during the RNC were thereby held in custody of the CITY OF NEW YORK for periods of time longer than were reasonable or necessary.

68. After their detention at Pier 57, further callous and unreasonable treatment and conditions of confinement were endured by plaintiffs during their transfer to and confinement at the Central Booking Facility at 100 Centre Street.

69. On information and belief, during the periods of their confinement the vast majority of RNC arrestees were subjected to unreasonably tight and painful wrist restraints/handcuffs.

70. During their time in custody plaintiffs were subjected to unreasonably tight and painful wrist restraints/handcuffs.

71. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS was issued a Desk Appearance Ticket that was signed by her arresting officer KEVIN SAM, and that instructed her to appear in Criminal Court on October 5, 2004 to answer the charge of disorderly conduct. When she arrived at the Criminal Court on that date she received a letter from the Office of the District Attorney informing her that on September 2, 2004, which had been the date of her release from police custody, their office had declined to prosecute her. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS was released after approximately 40 hours in custody.

72. Plaintiff GREGG ROSS was told that he was going to be taken to see a Judge. Instead he was simply brought to a door and released, and informed that there would not be any charges issued against him. He later received a summons in the mail, directing him to report to the Criminal Court on a date that had already passed. When GREGG ROSS telephoned to inquire about this he was informed that a bench warrant had been issued for his arrest because he had not come to Court. Defendant RUFLE was the deponent on the complaint filed with the Criminal Court against GREGG ROSS, charging him disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against GREGG ROSS have been dismissed in their entirety of by way of an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal. GREGG ROSS was released after approximately 50 hours in custody.

73. Plaintiff LAUREN CASPAR was released after approximately 35 hours in custody. On information and belief, she was charged with disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against LAUREN CASPAR have been dismissed in their entirety of by way of an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal.

74. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN was released after approximately 44 hours in custody. Defendant DIMAGGIO was the deponent on the complaint filed against him in Criminal Court charging him with disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against JEREL WALDEN have been dismissed in their entirety.

75. Prior to, during, and after the RNC officials of the CITY OF NEW YORK evinced through their statements and actions an attitude of contempt toward those who demonstrated during the RNC, and toward those thought to be assisting or otherwise related to them, including legal observers, anarchists, certain segments of the press, and the National Lawyers Guild. Officials of the CITY OF NEW YORK attempted to create a climate of fear relative to the activities of demonstrators.

76. Defendant COHEN prior to the RNC caused the NYPD to be engaged in widespread surveillance of individuals and groups expected to be demonstrating during the RNC period, and fostered and created a climate of hostility toward demonstrators, improperly conflating them with civil disobedience and/or violence and/or violent anarchism and/or terrorism. The intelligence obtained through Defendant COHEN's RNC intelligence program formed the backdrop and basis for the unconstitutional and illegal treatment of RNC arrestees, including the decision to engage in wrongful mass arrests, to fingerprint all arrestees, to not issue summonses to any RNC arrestees, and to hold RNC arrestees in NYPD custody for an improperly long period of time.

77. This tone of hostility to demonstrators, and the resultant policies, customs, practices and usages-to punish and discourage dissent were further set by statements made by other high level City Officials, including the Mayor and Police Commissioner, in the period leading up to and during the RNC. These statements portrayed those who chose to engage in political protest in the most negative light. This criminalization and/or demonization of people engaged in political protest was clearly communicated to NYPD police officers and supervisors through the public statements by NYPD officials, including Police Commissioner Kelly, who made remarks about the threat posed to New York City by "hard-core" and "dangerous" protestors. This sentiment was reiterated, summarized and ratified in the public statements of defendant BLOOMBERG in which he identified the plaintiffs and those similarly situated as "terrorists" and "guilty" criminals.

78. Defendants BLOOMBERG and KELLY further displayed their animosity to demonstrators, and their contempt for the rights of demonstrators, during the RNC period by discriminatorily and under false pretenses denying the issuance of a permit for use of Central Park's Great Lawn by demonstrators for a rally at the end of the largest planned demonstration of the RNC period on August 29, 2004.

79. The NYPD engaged in unreasonable mass arrests at multiple locations throughout New York City during the period of the RNC, where everyone or almost everyone present at a particular location was taken into police custody if they were demonstrating or perceived by the NYPD to have been demonstrating. Lawful demonstrators, observers, or passers-by were swept up in these mass arrests and taken to Pier 57. These arrests were conducted unreasonably, without respect for the rights of free expression and association, and without probable cause or individualized suspicion of wrongdoing.

80. The NYPD enforced a facially unconstitutional, overbroad, and vague parading ordinance against those demonstrating or perceived to have been demonstrating, and applied the parading ordinance and other laws, including the statute prohibiting disorderly conduct, in a discriminatory and unequal fashion.

81. The CITY OF NEW YORK engaged in false arrests and used the conditions and length of pre-arraignment detention for a punitive purpose, and in order to interfere with, retaliate for, and chill the exercise of free speech and association. The CITY OF NEW YORK engaged in these false arrests and dilatory processing of the arrestees in part to prevent the arrestees from exercising their rights to free speech and expression.

FIRST CLAIM

DEPRIVATION OF RIGHTS UNDER THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND 42 U.S.C. §1983

82. The plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations set forth in all preceding paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

83. By their conduct and actions in harassing, falsely arresting, maliciously prosecuting, abusing process against, assaulting and battering, violating and retaliating for the exercise of rights to free speech and assembly of, inflicting emotional distress upon, failing to intercede on behalf of, and fabricating an account concerning the arrests of plaintiffs, by subjecting plaintiffs to improperly prolonged, harsh, and hazardous conditions of confinement without access to lawyers, by deliberate indifference to medical needs, and by violating the arrestees' Fourteenth Amendment rights to equal protection and substantive and procedural due process, defendants BLOOMBERG, KELLY, HAMMERMAN, COHEN, DOEPFNER, ALBANO, SWEET, MARIN-JORDAN, NYPD LEGAL BUREAU SUPERVISOR(S) AT PIER 57, ESPOSITO, GRAHAM, McMANUS, SMOLKA, MONAHAN, COLGAN, ESSIG, GALATI, DIECKMANN, JOHNSON, CORTRIGHT, KEEGAN, SAM, RUFLE, BAITY, DIMAGGIO and JOHN DOES, acting under color of law and without lawful justification, intentionally, maliciously, and with a deliberate indifference to or a reckless disregard for the natural and probable consequences of their acts, caused injury and damage in violation of plaintiffs' constitutional rights as guaranteed under 42 U.S.C. §1983 and the United States Constitution, including its First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Fourteenth amendments.

84. As a result of the foregoing, plaintiffs were deprived of their liberty and property, suffered bodily injury, pain and suffering, psychological and emotional injury, great humiliation, costs and expenses, and were otherwise damaged and injured.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

31. Plaintiffs are individuals who were arrested on 16th Street between Union Square East and Irving Place on August 31, 2004.

32. Plaintiffs were arrested during one of the many mass-arrests conducted by the NYPD during the period of the RNC, arrests made by the NYPD without probable cause or individualized suspicion of criminal activity.

33. On the late afternoon of August 31, 2004 a group of people left the South side of Union Square Park and began walking North along Union Square East. Some of these people were on the sidewalk, and some were in the street. A number of musicians playing their instruments were walking at the front of the group.

34. When the group arrived at the intersection with East 16th Street police officers had formed a line across Union Square East, preventing any further movement to the North. Police officers directed the group to turn right onto East 16th Street, and the group did so.

35. On information and belief, when the group reached Irving Place, at the other end of the block, another line of police officers prevented them from continuing forward and leaving the block in that direction.

36. On information and belief, the intersection with Union Square East was thereafter also sealed by police officers, and many people who attempted to leave the block at the location where the group had entered it were unable to do so. On information and belief, the vast majority of those who were on the block were not permitted to leave the block at all.

37. Police officers acted aggressively and violently towards the musicians and others present on the block.

38. The people on the block were told to move to the sidewalks and told to sit down.

39. After the people on the block were seated for a long period of time, the police officers handcuffed them.

40. Police officers thereafter placed them into vehicles for transport to Pier 57.

41. At no time were the individuals on 16th Street given an order to disperse or advised that they were in violation of any law or ordinance of the State or City of New York.

42. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS is a professional photojournalist. On August 31, 2004 she went from Union Square Park to East 16th Street in order to observe what was occurring there and to photograph it. She was wearing a press pass around her neck.

43. While photographing the events occurring on the block she, like the other people present on the block, was directed by a police officer to get on the ground.

44. After a long period of time BETTY BASTIDAS was handcuffed. On information and belief the police officer who handcuffed her was defendant KEVIN SAM.

45. BETTY BASTIDAS was thereafter transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

45. On the evening of August 31, 2004 plaintiff GREGG ROSS left his job at the library of New School University and went to Union Square Park.

46. While at Union Square Park he saw the group proceed North on Union Square East. He wanted to observe what was occurring and walked along with the group on the sidewalk, and onto 16th Street.

47. GREGG ROSS saw the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block, and heard one of the police officers state, in sum and substance, "you don't fuck with the NYPD - we'll fuck with you."

48. Like so many others on 16th Street, GREGG ROSS was also arrested and transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

49. On August 31, 2004 plaintiff LAUREN CASPAR was arrested on East 16th Street while she was on her way to her Aunt's house.

50. LAUREN CASPAR attempted to exit East 16th Street at both Irving Place and Union Square East, but the police officers present would not let her leave from either end of the block.

51. LAUREN CASPAR saw the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block

52. LAUREN CASPAR was told to sit down by the police officers present on East 16th Street.

53. After sitting for a long period of time, LAUREN CASPAR was handcuffed by her arresting officer, on information and belief defendant BAITY.

54. LAUREN CASPAR was brought to Pier 57.

55. While LAUREN CASPAR was detained at Pier 57, some of the detainees began to chant that they needed medical attention. Police officers present at Pier 57 began dancing to these chants.

56. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN was also wrongfully arrested on East 16th Street without probable cause or individualized suspicion that he had committed any crime.

57. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN also witnessed the police officers acting aggressively and violently towards the people present on the block. Like so many others on 16th Street, JEREL WALDEN was also handcuffed and transported in handcuffs to Pier 57.

58. The arrest decision was made by Defendants ESSIG and DIECKMANN, without justification or probable cause, and without individualized knowledge that any of the arrestees had engaged in any illegal conduct. This decision to engage in the mass arrests on 16th Street was communicated to lower-ranking NYPD officers, who effected those orders..

59. Defendants GALATI, JOHNSON, CORTRIGHT, and KEEGAN were among the NYPD Commanding Officers who also exercised command responsibility at East 16th Street, and participated both directly and in their capacity as supervisors in making the wrongful mass arrests.

60. On information and belief, all those arrested on East 16th Street, and the vast majority of the almost two thousand people arrested during the course of the period of the RNC, were confined for some period of time at Pier 57.

61. Pier 57 is a former bus depot located on the Hudson River, and was reconfigured for use as a detention facility during the period of the RNC by defendant CITY OF NEW YORK.

62. Pier 57 is owned by and/or under the control of defendant HRPT.

63. Prior to the RNC the CITY OF NEW YORK contracted with HRPT for the use of Pier 57 as a detention facility.

64. The conditions at Pier 57 were atrocious. The detainees were kept in chain-link cages topped with barbed wire that lacked adequate seating. The floor of Pier 57 was caked with a dark grimy substance that spread to the clothing and bodies of those detained therein. There were numerous signs warning of hazardous materials that were posted at multiple locations throughout the pier. On information and belief, the detainees were exposed during their time at Pier 57 to toxic, irritating and/or hazardous chemicals which the City and HRPT knew, or should have known, were present there. During these periods of confinement the detainees were unlawfully denied adequate food, water, sanitation, medical attention and/or access to counsel.

65. Plaintiffs were processed at Pier 57, and their arresting officers were instructed by employees of THE CITY OF NEW YORK under the supervision of HAMMERMAN, DOEPFNER, SWEET, ALBANO MARIN-JORDAN, and NYPD LEGAL BUREAU SUPERVISOR(S) AT PIER 57 to create false accounts of plaintiffs' arrests. On information and belief, these Legal Bureau personnel also participated in the making of unconstitutional and illegal arrests at numerous mass arrest locations during the RNC.

66. Defendant HAMMERMAN was appointed by Defendant Kelly as Deputy Commissioner of Legal Matters without having knowledge at all of the rights of demonstrators or of individuals' rights under the First Amendment more generally, and no knowledge of the elements of the charges that are most commonly lodged against arrestees in demonstration-related circumstances. In addition to delegating his authority to Defendant DOEPFNER during the RNC period, which resulted in the construction of the NYPD Legal Bureau's unconstitutional and illegal policies, practices, customs, and usages during the RNC period, Defendant HAMMERMAN also personally set a tone of lawlessness and contempt for individual rights within the NYPD during the RNC, including by personally attempting to frame an individual named Dennis Kyne for crimes which he did not commit.

67. The detainees at Pier 57, including plaintiffs, were further subjected to unreasonable delay in being processed and moved through the system. The City insisted on fingerprinting all RNC detainees in contravention of New York State Law, the vast number of whom were arrested and charged based only on the alleged commission of violations that did not rise to the level of crimes under New York State law, and who therefore under New York State law did not have to be fingerprinted to be processed and released with a date to return for court. Despite the City's insistence on fingerprinting all RNC arrestees, the detention facility at Pier 57 not equipped with any fingerprinting machines. On information and belief, once the City eventually fingerprinted these RNC arrestees their fingerprints and other personal information were sent to State and Federal authorities and not destroyed, thus violating the privacy rights and interests of the arrestees and creating the potential for unlawful surveillance activity by law enforcement authorities, for the unlawful chilling of their exercise of free speech and association, and for disruptions to their lives. Additionally, unnecessary and dilatory additional processing steps were taken at Pier 57 that delayed the detainees' movement through the system, including overly exacting property itemization procedures and the screening of each arrestee's paperwork by the NYPD's Legal Division to determine and finalize what suggested charges should be forwarded to the District Attorney's office for each arrestee, and to create the arrest narratives on the arresting officers' paperwork. Further unreasonable and unnecessary delays were also suffered by RNC detainees upon their subsequent transfer to and detention at the Central Booking Facility at 100 Centre Street. All arrestees during the RNC were thereby held in custody of the CITY OF NEW YORK for periods of time longer than were reasonable or necessary.

68. After their detention at Pier 57, further callous and unreasonable treatment and conditions of confinement were endured by plaintiffs during their transfer to and confinement at the Central Booking Facility at 100 Centre Street.

69. On information and belief, during the periods of their confinement the vast majority of RNC arrestees were subjected to unreasonably tight and painful wrist restraints/handcuffs.

70. During their time in custody plaintiffs were subjected to unreasonably tight and painful wrist restraints/handcuffs.

71. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS was issued a Desk Appearance Ticket that was signed by her arresting officer KEVIN SAM, and that instructed her to appear in Criminal Court on October 5, 2004 to answer the charge of disorderly conduct. When she arrived at the Criminal Court on that date she received a letter from the Office of the District Attorney informing her that on September 2, 2004, which had been the date of her release from police custody, their office had declined to prosecute her. Plaintiff BETTY BASTIDAS was released after approximately 40 hours in custody.

72. Plaintiff GREGG ROSS was told that he was going to be taken to see a Judge. Instead he was simply brought to a door and released, and informed that there would not be any charges issued against him. He later received a summons in the mail, directing him to report to the Criminal Court on a date that had already passed. When GREGG ROSS telephoned to inquire about this he was informed that a bench warrant had been issued for his arrest because he had not come to Court. Defendant RUFLE was the deponent on the complaint filed with the Criminal Court against GREGG ROSS, charging him disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against GREGG ROSS have been dismissed in their entirety of by way of an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal. GREGG ROSS was released after approximately 50 hours in custody.

73. Plaintiff LAUREN CASPAR was released after approximately 35 hours in custody. On information and belief, she was charged with disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against LAUREN CASPAR have been dismissed in their entirety of by way of an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal.

74. Plaintiff JEREL WALDEN was released after approximately 44 hours in custody. Defendant DIMAGGIO was the deponent on the complaint filed against him in Criminal Court charging him with disorderly conduct and parading without a permit. All charges against JEREL WALDEN have been dismissed in their entirety.

75. Prior to, during, and after the RNC officials of the CITY OF NEW YORK evinced through their statements and actions an attitude of contempt toward those who demonstrated during the RNC, and toward those thought to be assisting or otherwise related to them, including legal observers, anarchists, certain segments of the press, and the National Lawyers Guild. Officials of the CITY OF NEW YORK attempted to create a climate of fear relative to the activities of demonstrators.

76. Defendant COHEN prior to the RNC caused the NYPD to be engaged in widespread surveillance of individuals and groups expected to be demonstrating during the RNC period, and fostered and created a climate of hostility toward demonstrators, improperly conflating them with civil disobedience and/or violence and/or violent anarchism and/or terrorism. The intelligence obtained through Defendant COHEN's RNC intelligence program formed the backdrop and basis for the unconstitutional and illegal treatment of RNC arrestees, including the decision to engage in wrongful mass arrests, to fingerprint all arrestees, to not issue summonses to any RNC arrestees, and to hold RNC arrestees in NYPD custody for an improperly long period of time.

77. This tone of hostility to demonstrators, and the resultant policies, customs, practices and usages-to punish and discourage dissent were further set by statements made by other high level

City Officials, including the Mayor and Police Commissioner, in the period leading up to and during the RNC. These statements portrayed those who chose to engage in political protest in the most negative light. This criminalization and/or demonization of people engaged in political protest was clearly communicated to NYPD police officers and supervisors through the public statements by NYPD officials, including Police Commissioner Kelly, who made remarks about the threat posed to New York City by "hard-core" and "dangerous" protestors. This sentiment was reiterated, summarized and ratified in the public statements of defendant BLOOMBERG in which he identified the plaintiffs and those similarly situated as "terrorists" and "guilty" criminals.

78. Defendants BLOOMBERG and KELLY further displayed their animosity to demonstrators, and their contempt for the rights of demonstrators, during the RNC period by discriminatorily and under false pretenses denying the issuance of a permit for use of Central Park's Great Lawn by demonstrators for a rally at the end of the largest planned demonstration of the RNC period on August 29, 2004.

79. The NYPD engaged in unreasonable mass arrests at multiple locations throughout New York City during the period of the RNC, where everyone or almost everyone present at a particular location was taken into police custody if they were demonstrating or perceived by the NYPD to have been demonstrating. Lawful demonstrators, observers, or passers-by were swept up in these mass arrests and taken to Pier 57. These arrests were conducted unreasonably, without respect for the rights of free expression and association, and without probable cause or individualized suspicion of wrongdoing.

80. The NYPD enforced a facially unconstitutional, overbroad, and vague parading ordinance against those demonstrating or perceived to have been demonstrating, and applied the parading ordinance and other laws, including the statute prohibiting disorderly conduct, in a discriminatory and unequal fashion.

81. The CITY OF NEW YORK engaged in false arrests and used the conditions and length of pre-arrainment detention for a punitive purpose, and in order to interfere with, retaliate for, and chill the exercise of free speech and association. The CITY OF NEW YORK engaged in these false arrests and dilatory processing of the arrestees in part to prevent the arrestees from exercising their rights to free speech and expression.
